

WEAKLY
THE ,

A WEEKLY NONSENSE

NEWS

- War on Gaza continues, almost 42,000 Palestinians dead since 7th October
- Atishi Marlena becomes Chief Minister of Delhi as Arvind Kejriwal steps down
- Delhi to experience extreme heat in the coming week, but continues to experience surprisingly good air quality
- Maggie Smith, 89, known to starring Harry Potter and Downtown Abbey, passes away.
- Third day called off at India vs Bangladesh as rains continue at Kanpur.

LIKED THE WEAKLY?

This zine needs YOU to keep it running, by sending in your musings, from your notes app to the backs of your books. It is printed every first working day of the week- and distributed amongst whoever the editor runs into first. It's special in a way where you know that someone probably carries your poem in their wallet.

You can also find the Weakly and more zines at DelhiZine, a zine collective devoted to sponsoring art. Catch us at @delhizine and delhizine.github.io.

E-mail your thoughts, notes, pictures, sketches, sighing and crying to stillsickkk@gmail.com. Or maybe bump into me in the corridor. God knows, I love that.

Didn't get a physical copy? Print your own!!!

COLLEGE NEWS

- College celebrated Fresher's Welcome for First Years with roaring success on Friday, 27th September, 2024
- Voting for DUSU elections concluded on 29th, September, and results to be announced after the all campaign material is removed.
- Tentative exam dates released for 3rd and 5th Semesters.
- Dr. Babasaheb Ambedkar Medical College concluded it's annual fest, Amnesia, on Sunday.
- IIT-Delhi, to hold Rendezvous, Asia's largest College Cultural, to be held next week.
- Several societies release results, and most conclude auditions for the session 2024-25.

editor's note

How does one move on from old friends? After spending 12 years sitting in the same room watching each other grow, how does one go forward from there? Does one simply forget them, a fragment of memory, passing in out when old photo albums are flipped through? Or does one try and stay in contact, despite all the hurdles in maintaining a friendship separated by differences in time and distance, a friendship which was formed in the similarities of time and difference? When does the daily correspondence stop till its weekly, monthly, yearly and when one texts on their birthday, the last text is from one's own last birthday? How soon does one stop making plans with them when returning home? How soon till one sees them and the grocery store unconsciously ignores? How soon till the nature of memory eliminates their handwriting, their curls, the bright pink pencil case and keeps the freckles, the toothy smile and the notes slipped across the table? Does one move on or does one carry them in the pit of one's stomach always? Does one forget them, or does one wake up in the middle of the night with a panicking chest, a nightmare about all one knew about oneself slipping like loose sand through one's fingers never to return again? What was one once? What will one be? Where do we go, oh where do we go?

MEDIA OF THE WEEK

1. SUPERBAD (2007)
2. JUNO (2007)
3. SCOTT PILGRIM VS THE WORLD (2010)
4. SUBMARINE (2010)
5. WAYNE'S WORLD (1992)
6. FERRIS BEULLER'S DAY OFF (1986)
7. DONNIE DARKO (2001)
8. UDAAN (2010)
9. RUSHMORE (1998)
10. BUT I'M A CHEERLEADER (1999)

Weekly Special

as the weather gets cooler and the rain subsides
i see the dragonflies
i see the trees rustling and the sun doesn't burn my skin
i carry a sort of nostalgia in the fields as i pretend to frolic
as in every other disney movie
the princesses weren't wrong about talking to everything they see for it definitely gets lonesome when the purpose of your stale life becomes all the more arbitrary you find yourself turning your face to find to the intersection of the generally stupid blues and greens

-by Arnold, @cherryinaframe

-by Jayy, about the passing summer